Property Description

Quepos Ocean View is a great opportunity for a buyer to enter the market and acquire an ocean view lot just outside of Quepos at a fraction of the cost. The owner of the lot is motivated to sell the land and for this reason is offering the sale of the property at a below market price. The land is located approximately just one mile outside of Quepos in an area that has seen growth over the last five years. The land can be built upon in many ways such as for an estate home perched on the hill with views of the Pacific Ocean or the mountains to the north, or possibly as a low density condo or apartment complex. Quepos/Manuel Antonio is very unique in that rental properties, both weekly and monthly do very well and this lot could provide great rental potential if built upon. Currently the building adjacent to this lot has been rented out on a long term basis. Quepos Ocean View is a great opportunity to enter the market to buy an ocean view lot at a fraction of the cost of other properties. Currently comes with plans to build.
